Precision Squad From Vermilion To Visit Coleman On Friday

The crack Precision Squad from the C.W.A.C. basic training centre at Vermilion—composed of 26 members of the Canadian Women's Army Corps and especially trained in precision drill to take part in the latest C.W.A.C. recruiting drive.

Drilled to perfection under the direction of Sergeant Major Instructor (W01) Fred Purkis, the squad will give a demonstration of drill and physical training which has the name of the C.W.A.C. outstanding across Canada. At 4 o'clock Friday afternoon they will give a demonstration on the street and will repeat the performance at 7:30 p.m. At 8 o'clock there will be a showing of the "Battle of Britain" and other authentic war films released by military headquarters to which the public are cordially invited with the exception of children under 17 years. The films will be shown in the I.O.O.F. hall and will be followed by an address by Lieut. Lucille Innes, C.W.A.C. recruiting officer. Tea will be served by members of the Canadian Women's Army Corps.

On Saturday morning at 11 o'clock the squad will parade through the streets of Coleman with the R.C.A.F. Cadets and will give another demonstration of drill and P.T.

Lieut. Kathleen Weaver, C.W.A.C., is in charge of the squad during its tour of Alberta cities and towns. Among the members are five Alberta girls; Sgt. Jacqueline Sylvestre, L/Cpl. Thelma Gregor and L/Cpl. Marilyn Quigley of Edmonton; Cpl. M. McDonald, Drumheller, and Cpl. Rose Wallsmith, formerly of Notidown, now of Port Moody, B.C. Other members of the squad are Sgt. Jean Finch, Sgt. Gloria Kimber, Sgt. Kay Acorn, Sgt. "Jo" Bailey, Sgt. Amy Cryer, Sgt. Joan Goodday, Sgt. Eleanor Graver, Sgt. Marjorie Legree, Cpl. Y. E. Chandler, Cpl. M. A. Dunn, Cpl. Pat Gray, Cpl. Renee Kay, Cpl. "Jo" Johnson, Cpl. Jayne Rathbone, Cpl. Bernice Ray, Cpl. Anne Strato, Cpl. D. Vokey, L/Cpl. Verena Lee, L/Cpl. Rose Lewis, L/Cpl. G. J. Van Norman and L/Cpl. Ruth Verrier.

Members of the Precision Squad have been in the C.W.A.C. for some time; the majority are former instructors at No. 2 C.W.A.C. Basic Training Centre at Vermilion. They are fully familiar with all branches of the army.

Girls in Coleman are asked to look upon them as their friends and to ask any questions which might arise concerning the C.W.A.C. during the squad's visit.

"As many C.W.A.C. personnel are being drawn from establishments for overseas service and will continue to be sent in future, there is an urgent need for 5,000 recruits across Canada to meet this demand for both home and abroad," stated Lieut. Innes in a recent interview. "Girls with high qualifications; having a high school education or better, will be sought; girls who can be trained or are suitable for training in a variety of trades, including stenography, typing, accounting and bookkeeping. Others are urgently needed as fixed wireless or line wireless operators, drivers, wireless mechanics, postal assistants, laboratory technicians, pharmacists and hospital assistants. Out of Alberta's quota for 450 recruits 136 clerks alone are needed," Miss Innes said.

"The purpose of the recruiting drive in Coleman is to contact every available girl and to help learn something more about the C.W.A.C." Miss Innes explained. "If she can't enlist herself then to give her whole co-operation and loyalty in getting other recruits to meet the present demand. Women are filling a vital place in the army. If girls would look at women's services from that point of view, it would be more beneficial to them."

CARD OF THANKS

Right Rev. H. R. Ragg Conducts Induction Service

Rev. W. E. Brown Welcomed to Coleman and Blairmore Parishes.

On Tuesday evening in St. Alban's church the Right Reverend H. R. Ragg, Bishop of the diocese of Calgary, conducted the impressive Induction Service of the Rev. W. E. Brown into the incumbency of St. Alban's church of Coleman and St. Luke's church of Blairmore. He was assisted by Canon Axon, Rural Dean of the Macleod Deanery, and the Rev. Green, principal of the Indian school at Brocket.

Bishop Ragg introduced his address by saying that he welcomed this opportunity of meeting the parishioners again. He then chose "Stewardship" as the subject of his discourse, using the second verse of chapter 4, 1st Corinthians, as his text. He stressed the need for co-operation between the Incumbent and his people in carrying on Christian work in the community.

After the service the congregation gathered in the parish hall, where Mr. W. T. Pettifor, acting as chairman, called on Mr. Sidney White, of Blairmore, who, in a few chosen words, welcomed the Rev. Brown and Mrs. Brown to the parishes of St. Alban's and St. Luke's. Canon Axon, Rev. Green and Bishop Ragg also spoke briefly. Mr. and Mrs. Brown responded, expressing sincere appreciation for the welcome they received. Mr. Brown said he had come a long way (from Newfoundland) to be their pastor, and requested the co-operation of the parishioners in his ministry here.

A social hour followed, during which the Ladies' Guild served a delicious luncheon.

PAUL CHARDON, BLAIRMORE MERCHANT, PASSES

The remains of Mr. Paul Chardon, who passed away Sunday night, were laid to rest in the St. Anne's Catholic cemetery in Blairmore on Wednesday afternoon, following service held at St. Anne's church by Rev. Dean M. A. Harrington.

Quite a large turnout of friends and relatives from all sections of the Pass attended.

The late Mr. Chardon, a native of France, had been a resident of the Crow's Nest Pass for close on 40 years. Prior to taking up residence in Blairmore he resided at Coal Creek and Fernie. Some 25 years ago he took over a restaurant and grocery business in Blairmore, in which he proved successful.

Several months ago he was stricken with illness, and gradually grew worse till the end came. He is survived by his wife and one daughter, Mrs. R. Pinkney.

Curlers Given 'Go Ahead' Signal On New Arena

Demolishing Old Main Street Barn to Secure Additional Lumber; May Start on Arena Next Week.

Andy Dow and his gang of workers have been given the "Go Ahead" signal from the town council and International Company to build the new curling arena in Flumerfelt Park and are now engaged nightly in preliminary work before starting the actual erection of the large building.

The town council has already shown its desire to help the curlers all it can by donating the main street barn, formerly owned by S. S. Sartoris, and from which a great deal of good lumber can be secured. The barn has now almost been demolished by the curlers and the lumber will be transported to the arena site shortly.

Sam Sagoff's "cat" will be used in levelling the site on which the arena will be built. Art Fraser has the ground surveyed and once it is levelled out, President Andy Dow will need all the manpower he can get. As a result he asks all curlers and sportsmen anxious to help in construction to contact him immediately, so that they can be assigned to certain duties.

Work at the new site will be started within the next day or two. Once the ground is levelled a concrete foundation will be laid.

FEDERAL CHECK-UPS ON COUPON BOOKS

Federal officials plan to make check-ups on the gasoline coupon books to ensure that the motorists' license number is written on each coupon, according to information received by the Alberta Motor Association.

Recently, officials at Vancouver seized many of these books when the motorists drove in to filling stations to get fuel supplies. The books were taken to the enforcement officer's headquarters and motorists had to go and write their license number on each coupon in the presence of an official before the books were returned to the owners.

Federal officials say the new regulations are a protection for motorists in case of the loss of books, as it prevents unauthorized persons from using the coupons. Also, it is a deterrent to "black market" operations.

The A.M.A. urges motorists to see that their license number is written on each coupon, as required by the federal regulations.

Pass Victory Loan Units Increase Number of Applications; Blairmore And Bellevue Increase Subscriptions

Coleman Down $3,550 in Subscriptions From Fifth Loan Despite Fact Applications Increased by 52. Experiment with Payroll Savings Plan.

Final figures have been tabulated by the three Pass Victory Loan units, of Bellevue-Hillcrest, Blairmore-Frank and Coleman and they tell a most interesting story.

All units boosted the number of applications in the Sixth loan over the Fifth and both Bellevue and Blairmore units boosted the amount of subscriptions in the Sixth over the Fifth. Coleman lost ground by $3,550.

Coleman	Applic.	Sub.
5th Loan	558	111,900
6th Loan	608	108,350

Blairmore	Applic.	Sub.
5th Loan	450	87,800
6th Loan	510	107,400

Bellevue	Applic.	Sub.
5th Loan	407	85,250
6th Loan	459	100,600

Despite the fact that Coleman increased its applications by 52 it lost ground in the amount of subscriptions. The 608 applications also reveal that only one in five is purchasing bonds. The number of ration books issued from Coleman being approximately 3200.

Coleman undertook an experiment this loan in launching the payroll deduction plan. This plan has gone over well in the east and provincial officials were insistent that it be tried in the Pass. 150 subscriptions were secured on the plan, 85 from International and 65 from McGillivray, for a total subscription of $9,600.

Once again the workers at Sentinel Power plant came through with almost 100% subscription. Loan after loan these plant employees support the campaigns to the best of their financial ability and it is a pleasure to solicit them. Their record of supporting Victory Loans and War charities is one that will be hard to beat anywhere in the Dominion.

Blairmore, after a slow start, came through with flying colors and rolled up the magnificent amount of $107,400 for a quota of $88,000. Blairmore salesmen worked hard throughout the campaign and the records showed that they were selling more bonds than in the fifth but it was only towards the end that fairly heavy subscriptions boosted up the total "take".

Bellevue-Hillcrest got away to a flying start and maintained the pace throughout the campaign to secure their quota days before Coleman and Blairmore. Hillcrest came through in grand style this loan and subscribed three times the amount it did in the Fifth loan thus helping materially in the unit obtaining its quota early in the campaign.

All Pass Victory Loan workers are well pleased with their efforts and are warm in their praise of the general public who greeted them courteously when asked to buy bonds to "Put Victory First".

Old Main Street Livery Barn Being Demolished by Curlers

Built in 1913, Town Has Outgrown Usefulness of Once Popular Livery Barn—Lumber Going Into New Curling Rink

An old main street landmark is gradually disappearing, board by board, from the site it has occupied during the past 31 years, around which the town has steadily progressed during that time.

The landmark is the old barn on east main street. It was built in 1913 by Joe Plante and the late Harry Antle as a garage. Adjoining the new building of that time was a livery stable, housing 20 head of horses, built by Hugh Cameron in 1904. Plante and Antle purchased the livery business from Mr. Cameron in 1911 and two years later built the garage which is now being demolished.

Messrs Plante and Antle purchased the first two cars to be owned in Coleman. The livery and taxi business, etc was good in those days and the garage saw much activity. It was kept open till 1922 when so many cars were operated in Coleman, the taxi business suffered as a result.

Mr. Plante continued to house his livery truck in the barn for many years thereafter. Many youngsters gathered at the livery stable, which adjoined the garage, in the evening to watch the late Alex. Cornett shoe horses and gaze in wonder as he heated the metal to white heat before shaping the shoe to fit the horse.

In 1940 the entire building was sold to Charles Sartoris. The following year the livery stable was sold to the Canadian Legion who demolished it leaving only the garage. This in turn was made into a lumber shed. Mr. Sartoris went out of business in Coleman and later allowed it to be used gratis by Coleman Salvage committee, it housing many kinds of scrap. A few weeks ago three lots, the garage being located on one, were purchased by the council from Mr. Sartoris. The council then offered the barn to the curling club to aid in the building of the new curling arena.

As time marches on the old must give place to the new and soon a beautiful memorial park will rise where the old barn stood for so many years.

Peter Abramowicz Hanged At Early Hour This Morning

Paid Supreme Penalty at Lethbridge Jail for Murder of Veronica Zahorejko in East Coleman on January 25.

Shortly after midnight Wednesday, Peter Abramowicz, 49, walked to the gallows at Lethbridge provincial jail and paid the supreme penalty for the murder of his common-law wife, Veronica Zahorejko, 35, on the morning of January 25 in his shack in East Coleman.

Clinging desperately to his hopes that the death sentence would be commuted, Abramowicz learned Tuesday that the minister of justice had confirmed the sentence ordered in supreme court at Macleod on March 7, after a jury of six men had found the accused guilty of murdering 35-year-old Veronica Zahorejko in his shack.

While the court proceedings were being reviewed by the department of Justice, Abramowicz firmly believed that his life would be spared.

Tuesday morning information was received at Lethbridge from Ottawa that there would be no interference in the sentence ordered, and Abramowicz would walk to the scaffold shortly after midnight Wednesday.

The execution was witnessed only by officials. Dr. K. I. Murray was appointed to act as coroner. Abramowicz had resided for a number of years at Lethbridge before coming to Coleman where he gained employment. He had resided with Mrs. Zahorejko at Lethbridge and she and her children came from the city and resided in his shack along with Abramowicz in East Coleman.

The evidence at the court trials revealed that there had many quarrels and Mrs. Zahorejko had at one time left him and had resided in a shack which she rented. Shortly before Christmas she and her family had returned to reside at Lethbridge. On the morning of January 25 she returned from Lethbridge and in the early hours of the morning had returned to Coleman and went to Abramowicz's shack. A few hours later she met her death at the hands of Abramowicz following another quarrel.

It was only when Abramowicz confessed his crime to Lethbridge R.C.M. police that the murder became known. The Blairmore detachment of the RCMP found the body after forcing locked doors on the morning of January 26.

Prairie Livestock Being Pastured In C.N.P. Forest Reserve

218 Head Cattle Arrived at Sentinel on Sunday; Expect 1,000 Head; Cattle Coming From Lethbridge District

Community ranchers in the dry belt in the Lethbridge area have combined to lease all available range land in the Crows Nest forest reserve to pasture their cattle. The move has evidently been made as the result of insufficient snow during the past winter and the lack of sufficient rainfall this spring.

On Sunday six carloads of cattle, numbering 218 head, arrived at Sentinel and are now grazing there. More than 500 cattle are expected to arrive within the next week or two. Arriving on Sunday was Ted Hagell and one other party whose name could not be ascertained.

These men will supervise the cattle while located here. Mr. Hagell has the reputation of being quite a good artist and now has ample opportunity of drawing many scenes of the Rockies, the grandeur of which is unsurpassed.

Wartime Development

MANY VISITORS TO CANADA have been surprised and impressed by the magnitude of this nation's war effort. Since this continent is so far removed from the battle fronts, and since it has not been the object of direct enemy attack, it might be considered understandable if there was some attitude of detachment in respect to the realities of war. This, however, has not been the case, and Canadians have appeared from the beginning to have been deeply conscious of the seriousness of the struggle in which we are involved, and to have been prepared to make every effort to hasten an Allied victory. It is now a well-known fact that Canada's contribution to the resources of the United Nations in manpower and materials is second to none, in proportion to our population.

Labor Shortage Is Expected

Proof of the extent to which our human resources are mobilized is given in figures which have recently been made public. These figures show that nearly sixty per cent. of the people here who are fourteen years of age, or older, are now either in the armed forces or at work. The contribution made by women who have gone into industries in order to release men for military service is demonstrated by the fact that 1,075,000 women were employed in October, 1943, as compared with 638,000 in October, 1939. It was generally believed that the peak period of demand for labor was reached in September, 1943, when 219,000 workers were required. It is now expected, however, that an acute labor shortage will be experienced during the next year, when there will be increased demands both from the armed forces and from industry. Estimated requirements for this period include about 98,000 for the armed forces, 250,000 for agriculture, 10,000 for munitions work, and 2,000 for basic metal mining. It is apparent that many difficulties will be encountered in meeting all these demands.

Farm Problems Are Realized

Shortage of farm help has been a critical problem here, yet in spite of this, Canadian farmers have, since the beginning of the war, produced some of the largest crops in our history, and have met all commitments for agricultural products at home and abroad. It is realized that no further reserves of manpower can be drawn from the farms if we are to continue to fulfill our obligations to our Allies by supplying them with vital food shipments. Of those in the eligible age group for military service, 145,528 have already been given special leave to farm work. In addition, soldiers and airmen are given special leave to work on farms when it can be arranged. Canada now has the largest fighting force in her history, while her industries are developed to unprecedented proportions. Another Dominion Day is approaching, and we may observe it with the knowledge that we are assuming our full share of responsibilities during this critical period in world affairs.

The Extra Cheer

Canada's Name Of "Tiger" Is Not Understood In Britain

One Canadian custom seems to mystify the English. When Canadians call for "three cheers and a tiger" not many British know what a "tiger" means.

According to Maple Leaf, the Canadian Army newspaper, here is the order some brass-band framed to take care of the situation:

"It was mentioned verbally some time ago that 'three cheers' for someone meant three cheers only and did not include 'tiger'. If an additional cheer is wanted, the command will be 'Four Cheers'. 'Tiger' will not be called for."

It is said that the troops do not call them Tiger tanks any longer, but "Four Cheers" tanks — Winnipeg Tribune.

Price Control And Rationing Information

Q—Will the increase in tea or coffee rations affect the ruling of only one cup of coffee or one serving of tea to one person at one sitting in a restaurant?
A—No. These restrictions remain in effect.

Q—I read somewhere that blackstrap molasses was not rationed. Is that correct?
A—Yes, but the "blackstrap" mentioned is of a type not usually consumed by human beings and is customarily used for feeding livestock. Molasses for cooking purposes is very definitely on the ration list.

Q—Should I take my ration book to the hospital with me?
A—It is not necessary to take your ration book to the hospital unless you are going to remain there for two weeks or more.

Q—Please advise me the correct amount of evaporated milk I may purchase with one coupon.
A—"C" coupons are worth 96 fluid ounces—evaporated milk is usually put up in 16 ounce tins. Therefore you would surrender one coupon for six of these tins.

Please send your questions or your request for the pamphlet "Consumers' News" or the Blue Book (the book in which you keep track of your selling prices) mentioning the name of this paper to the nearest Wartime Prices and Trade Board office in your province.

Moving An Army

Description Of The Secret Transfer Of The 8th Army

A major from London's Chelsea district read aloud from Gibbon's "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire" to keep himself and his colleagues awake as British 8th Army headquarters trundled across Italy at 10 miles an hour.

It was noon one March day when they set off from an Adriatic port to an olive grove over the Apennines more than 150 miles away. Before they reached the end of the journey the major had read a large part of Gibbon's ponderous history.

The army's move along serpentine roads, through blizzard, snow and ice, was a feat of organization and planning without precedent in the Italian campaign.

It was carried out with clockwork precision, and apart from a few cold feet and number hands it was achieved without mishap.

A platoon of sappers equipped with bulldozers strengthened the roads, dug diversions for heavy traffic and reduced the wear and tear on some stretches by one way diversion signs.

The group commander said: "It was a most tricky move, because it was not known till it was well on its way which of the three alternative routes would be used on account of the snow."

"The men were warned that it would be very cold and were advised to be well muffled up," he said. "We beat the snow drift to the staging area for the night. Then the blizzard began."

"We got outside riders — jeep drivers and motor cyclists — into the houses first. Others slept in vehicles parked by the roadsides or in buildings where available."

"We pushed on next morning with cars sliding along slippery roads and edging through deep snow. We drove at 10 miles per hour with 10 minute stops every two hours to stretch our legs."

"I have taken part in many long desert moves, but I have never been in a smoother handled mass movement across the backbone of a country."

Have Lost Their Spirit

Lieutenant Beurling Says Nazi Airmen Now Refuse To Fight

Fit. Lt. George (Buz) Beurling, back home in Canada for instructional duties with the R.C.A.F., thinks the "Germans are beaten," and says there's "no fun any more" because the German pilots won't fight. He declares the bombers are doing the real job.

But the Canadian fighter ace who has shot down 31 enemy planes, wants no part of a bomber for himself, he said in an interview.

"No, sir, you couldn't get in a bomber for all the tea in China. They're too dangerous. There is nothing as safe as a fighter. Give me a fast fighter any day."

"The bombers are doing the real job. They're the ones who are putting Germany out of action. Fighter duels are just side shows compared to the continuous pounding of Germany by the bombers. The Germans are beaten. Why don't they admit it?"

"The inactivity over there was getting me down," he said grinning. "We never hurt the Huns any more. They've lost their spirit. As soon as we spot one during the regular sweeps over the Channel, Occupied France, Holland or Belgium, he dives away and stays away."

"There's no fun any more. You can't shoot down Huns if they don't show up, can you?"

"Since I've been back in Britain from my last furlough, I've seen only three of them. When I say 'see' I mean near enough to engage, and I was lucky enough to shoot them down. Yes, sir, Lady Luck rides with me right on my tail."

India's War Effort

Has Every Reason To Be Proud Of Its Achievement

High tribute is paid to India's war effort in an editorial in The Montreal Star which says: "It is doubtful if the public at large or United States has more than a vague idea of the great part India has played and is playing in the world conflict. Army, navy, air force and industries are praised, and figures issued by the Government of India information services in Washington are quoted to show the great effort."

"The figures are official and should serve to convince all save the purblind that India is behind the war effort heart and soul, and has every reason to be proud of its war achievement," the paper said.

GRASSHOPPER BAIT

According to Scientific Agriculture, grasshopper bait in which the carrier consists of one part by volume of top-grade flour to 13 parts sawdust has been equally effective as the more expensive bait of equal volumes of bran and sawdust, under conditions representative of the Northern Great Plains.

The first lifeboats were designed at the end of the 18th century.

Officer: In case of fire what do you do?
Recruit: I yell Cease Firing.

Hostess: Won't you have some more pudding, Sgt.?

Sgt.: Oh, just a mouthful.

Hostess: Nellie, fill up the Sgt's plate.

Medical Professor: "What would you do in the case of a person eating poisonous mushrooms?"
Student: "Recommend a change of diet."

"Sedentary work," said the college professor, "tends to lessen the endurance."
"In other words," the student blurted out, "the more one sits the less one can stand."

"Exactly," retorted the professor, "and if one lies a great deal one's standing is lost completely."

Junior: "Say, Dad, did you go to Sunday School when you were a little boy?"

Father: "Yes, son—regularly."

Junior: "I'll bet it won't do me any good either."

"What did your father say about you smashing up his car?"

"Shall I leave out the swear words?"

"Certainly!"

"Then he didn't say anything."

Private—What did you join up for?

Corporal—I'm not married, and I love war. What did you join up for?

Private—for the same reason as you—only just the opposite.

Captain: I hope the next time I see you, you'll be a second lieutenant.

Sgt.: Yes, sir, thank you. Same to you, sir.

CANADIAN PENSIONS ACT FOR MEN IN FORCES CONSIDERED BEST OF ANY IN THE WORLD

OTTAWA.—Pensions Minister MacKenzie said in the commons that after a check of United States, United Kingdom and other dominions' legislation, he was convinced the Canadian Pensions Act was the best in the world for the benefit of those in the forces.

After a two-day discussion in which some aspects of the pensions legislation was criticized by opposition speakers, the minister said:

The insurance principle, removed from the Canadian Pensions Act in 1940 "after some abuses", was not included in the pensions legislation of the United States, United Kingdom or other dominions. This principle would ensure compensation for the person in the services no matter how or where the disability came about.

Awards of pensions in the present war numbered 12,563, involving a liability of more than $6,000,000. A shortage of manpower, including doctors, have made decentralization of veterans' hospitals difficult. In the larger centres, civilian specialists were available.

Men in the forces were denied pensions because of a pre-enlistment condition of health only when the evidence of the pre-enlistment ailment was conclusive.

In April 7,382 hospital beds for veterans were available. By 1945, 9,750 beds would be in operation and 14,600 by 1946. In addition, there were 15,000 army and temporary beds which would be available in an emergency.

When the commons opened Finance Minister Isley, replying to Mr. Graydon, said he hoped to be able to introduce the budget "not too long" after the end of May.

Answering inquiries made by members, Mr. MacKenzie said there was no rigid bar against pensionability in cases of neurosis, "and there never will be." Anyone suffering from the stresses and strains of battle would be pensionable unless there was definite proof of a pre-enlistment condition.

Mr. MacKenzie said 134,598 men were discharged from the forces up to March 31 last. Of the number 97,619 were discharged as medically unfit.

A pension decision had been rendered in 49,223 cases. No decision had been made in about 50,000 cases, but each of the cases had received attention. The cases were third priority cases.

Mr. MacKenzie said at the night sitting of the house that as men and women were demobilized they would be referred to various sections with trained personnel who would assist them in returning to civil life. Information would be given them on vocational training, the Land Settlement Act, civil service opportunities, and Unemployment Insurance Act provisions.

In the groups being demobilized probably would be:

1. Those who have jobs or businesses or professions to which they may return.
2. Those who desired vocational training.
3. Those who plan resumption of education.
4. Those who plan to return to farms or take up land.

FEED GRAIN

Reduced By Heavy Domestic Feeding And Shipments To U.S.

OTTAWA.—Canada no longer has a super-abundance of feed grains and the stockpile created by the bumper 1942 harvest has been "severely trimmed" by heavy domestic feeding and large exports to the United States, the Dominion bureau of statistics said in a review.

The reduction in the stockpile attracted attention to the indicated reduction in oats and barley acreage in the west this year together with "the none too favorable moisture situation" on the prairies, said the bureau.

"It is, perhaps, unlikely that eastern Canada, particularly Ontario and Quebec, will need the volume of western grain in 1944-45 that will be shipped to them during the current crop year," said the bureau.

"Weather conditions during the season of the 1944 growing season will supply the answer, but at least the eastern growers have increased their acreages seeded to feed grains and the crop is off to a much better start than was the case a year ago."

"It is doubtful, however, if the prospective supplies of oats and barley in western Canada, based on current expectation, would be large enough in the 1944-45 crop season to meet a demand similar to that experienced in the current crop year without wiping out reserves.

"Statistics on which this assumption is based indicate that during the crop year 1943-44 a total of 560,000,000 bushels of western oats and barley will disappear as animal feed, as seed for the 1944 crop, and as exports to the United States."

WORKERS WANTED

Help Of Prairie Women Sought For Okanagan Fruit Farms

VANCOUVER. Because of the probably heavy fruit crop in the Okanagan and lower mainland this year, several hundred women workers from the prairies will be sought for fruit farm work. W. MacGillivray, director of the Dominion-provincial emergency farm labor service, said. Last year 150 prairie workers were brought into the province.

But Total Of 480 Japanese Now Interned In Canada

OTTAWA.—Justice Minister St. Laurent said in the commons that 430 Japanese now are interned, including 268 who are British subjects or are treated as such.

In all, 72 had been interned for a period through failure to immediately comply with removal orders given them in protected areas in British Columbia. Many of these had since been released from internment.

Soviet Subs Take Norwegians And Russians To Northern Norway

STOCKHOLM.—Norwegian and Russian Partisans have been landed in far northern Norway from Soviet submarines which slipped past German defences through the fjord-dotted coastline, the Stockholm Tidningen said. Quoting private sources, the newspaper said the Partisans were reported conducting small-scale guerrilla warfare against the Germans.

HOW BRITISH RAIDERS WAVING A TRAFFIC LIGHT CAPTURED GERMAN GENERAL IN CRETE

CAIRO.—British raiders, waving a red traffic light, captured Gen. Karl Heinrich George Ferdinand Kriepe, April 26, as the commanding officer of the German forces occupying Crete drove up in front of his headquarters, it was revealed.

Raiding officers halted the car, advised the surprised general that he was a prisoner, and with the help of automatic pistols persuaded the military chauffeur to leave the wheel, announced several days ago.

With an amused officer replacing the driver, the general, covered by pistols, was driven through the streets of Heraklion, and past 22 military control posts on the 30-mile route leading to the point where a British naval vessel awaited the raiders.

The announcement, revealing details of the general's capture, gave no other information about the raid, announced several days ago.

The afternoon following the raid, German planes dropped leaflets along the coast of Crete, saying that as the general had been captured by bandits, all villages in Heraklion province would be razed unless he was returned within three days.

This action convinced the British that the Germans had been non-plussed by the absence of their general, who had been in charge of the Sebastopol 22nd Panzer Grenadier division in Crete for only five weeks, and that they had been suspicious of the note left by the officers, which read in part:

"Gentlemen: Your divisional commander, Kriepe, was captured a short time ago by a British raiding force . . . and by the time you get this we will be on our way to Cairo. We would like to point out most emphatically that this operation has been carried out without the help of Cretans or Cretan Partisans . . . any reprisals against the local population will be wholly unwarranted and unjust."

"Auf baldiges wiedersehen (see you soon)."

"P.S.—Sorry we have to leave this car behind."

WOULD CONVEY MEETING FOR FORMATION OF CANADIAN RADIO TECHNICAL PLANNING BOARD

OTTAWA.—Dr. Augustin Frigon, acting general manager of the CBC, told the commons radio committee the CBC was ready to convene a meeting of interested parties for the setting up of a Canadian radio technical planning board.

Other highlights of the sitting, at which Dr. Frigon completed his testimony, were:

1. The committee deprecated the wording of a telegram from the Writers, Artists and Musicians' council which referred to committee members as "irresponsible." The charge arose out of the tabling at a previous session of a pamphlet charging the council with being left-wing.

2. The committee adopted a recommendation that the Social Credit party be included among the political groups granted free network broadcast time on the CBC in the periods between elections.

3. Need for a national orchestra, band and repertory company for CBC broadcasts was suggested. Rev. E. G. Hansell (S.C., Macleod) said these organizations would be a good advertisement for Canada if they were to broadcast to the world from the new shortwave transmitter being built at Sackville, N.B.

Speaking about the "unfortunate loss" of several CBC officials to more remunerative posts, E. L. Bushnell, program supervisor of the CBC, said:

"I am afraid that it will always be the lot of the CBC to be a training ground for young, able and highly-qualified persons who move on to other remunerative positions in their chosen profession."

He replied to criticism which he said had been levelled at various phases of the CBC effort. He said it was with "considerable disquietude" he heard reports questioning the accuracy, responsibility and integrity of the corporation's news bulletins.

He said he suggested a careful examination of all the facts would convince anybody "that subject to the limitations imposed by the frailties common to the human race and the limitations of time, the CBC is providing its shareholders with a news service that is unbiased and impartial—a service that is as factual and objective as any being broadcast anywhere in the world today."

He said he had investigated reports that responsible members of the CBC staff were interested in the advancement of a political party and had found the reports "are as untrue as they were disturbing."

He referred to the work of the CBC in encouraging talent and said he denied "most emphatically" the charge "you have to have pull to get a job in the CBC."

He said the CBC had embarked on a quest of new authors, composers and playwrights.

"At the moment we are engaged in assisting composers in having their works published," he said. "We cannot afford to spend very much money on this project but, if we can arrange for a dozen works to be published each year, it will not be long before we have a fair-sized list of musical works of a high standard that can and will be played in other countries, and from the performance of which Canadian composers will receive a fee for performing rights."

CONFERENCE ON SOCIAL WORK STRESSES NEED FOR BUILDING OF RURAL AND URBAN HOMES

WINNIPEG.—Dr. S. H. Prince, of Halifax, told a housing meeting of the Canadian conference on social work here that as long as Canadian cities have deplorable housing conditions, welfare workers will be fighting a losing battle.

"The state, school and church must join hands to build homes. In Nova Scotia we have long laid stress on the building of communities, not houses."

The common people of Canada have only to be helped and guided and they will develop undreamed of social and economic sufficiency. "They will build more than new houses, they will build new lives."

Any satisfactory housing scheme must co-ordinate and integrate various local plans, said Lionel Scott, of Wartime Housing, Ottawa.

"We must make possible in our homes the opportunities and outlets for the free development of a free people."

The home has been called the cradle of democracy. "If we wish to enjoy this democracy, we must be willing to assume responsibility. If we wish to enjoy privileges, we must be willing to assume obligations."

A. M. Moore, of Dauphin, Man., suggested that rural people centre their homes in one community. "Our rural housing problem is just as bad, actually and potentially, as the urban problem. The solution may lie in planned rural communities."

Dr. Kenneth H. Rogers, of Toronto, advocated a department of youth services as a new unit of city administration to combat juvenile delinquency. The department would be headed by a youth commissioner.

Establishment of an organization for retaining servicemen to meet the requirements of civilian life was suggested by Brig. J. C. Meakins, of Ottawa, Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps. In an address prepared for delivery to the conference.

"The armed forces assumed the responsibility of training citizens to be servicemen and there is every indication they were eminently successful," he said. "Would it not be reasonable in a similar organization, to which equal thought and planning were devoted, that members of the services could be retained to meet the requirements of civilian society?"

Theatre Notes

This week end local theatre patrons will be given the opportunity of witnessing in realistic detail the fight between American and Japanese forces on Guadalcanal in the south Pacific.

The grim and gory screen version of Richard Tregaskis' book will be shockingly revealing to those escapists who ostrich-like prefer to evade the bitterness and bestiality of war. They possibly will not consider it an entertainment treat. Nor will it prove a tidbit for squeamish stomachs. But by those patrons who are eager to know what is happening on the far-flung battlefronts, the picture will be hailed as a masterful job of celluloid reporting on one of the bravest and bloodiest pages of history. Free of pretense, evading all heroics, pulling no punches, the film augmented by narrated quotes from the book awesomely and engrossingly chronicles the battles of the first contingent of US marines that landed and fought thro to victory.

At Bellevue this week end it is America's leading comedians, Abbott and Costello, in "Hit The Ice." In addition there will be the latest war news and miscellaneous shorts.

PLANTS CLOSING DOWN DURING SUMMER

Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, minister of labour, today stated that special instructions have been sent to Employment and Selective Service Offices across Canada, with a view to curtailing the temporary closing down of plants on war production and essential civilian production during the course of the summer.

The labour minister points out that in normal times a good many plants have developed the practice of closing down for several days—often for a few weeks—for various reasons, such as to give a vacation to employees or to carry out over-haul work.

The minister added that as labour shortages are expected to be pronounced again this summer, the government expects firms will agree to examine their policy carefully before going ahead with any temporary plant shut-down. While there is no desire on the part of the Government to interfere with established and reasonable vacation practices, Selective Service cannot undertake to guarantee the return of workers to plants following unwarranted shut-downs. Moreover, hardship for those who lose wages during these temporary lay-offs is frequently involved.

The minister appeals to all employers who may have under consideration any plan for a temporary shut-down, to discuss the matter with the nearest Employment and Selective Service office before reaching a final decision, in order to ensure that regulations may not be infringed, and also to ensure that labour shortage difficulties will not arise.

Soldiers' Letters

Following is the impressions of Ernest Goulding, local boy serving overseas, in a letter to his mother at Pincher Creek:

"Here I am again, almost back at the place where I started from in this country.

"Boy, was I sure sick of the trip across, but when I saw Scotland and England I got better in a hurry. It is sure swell over here; everything is green and clean. I can't find words to express it, but I guess there is not as much freedom here as in Canada. You can't go hunting and fishing when and where you want to.

"I find the food o.k. over here, although there isn't the fancy touches you can get in peace time. It seems funny to go to a pub and see girls with a pint of ale and a cig., though. The pub is quite a social place over here and not a drunken place as in Canada. These trains sure make me laugh, but they go like h... The box cars look like mine cars, but the passenger train is pretty classy, 3rd class being almost as good as 1st class in Canada. The money seems a little funny for a while, but one soon gets on to that."

Staggered Vacations

In April 1943 a letter was sent to government departments, insurance companies, banks, department stores, munitions plants and other large employers of labour, requesting their assistance in preventing congestion on common carrier facilities (buses and railroads) during the summer months by arranging to "stagger" vacation time. The response was gratifying and had the effect of ensuring the maximum utilization of available equipment for accommodating the personnel of the armed services.

The strain on carrier facilities which made such a request necessary in 1943, is even more acute in 1944. We, therefore, again solicit your active co-operation for this year and ask that your organization assist the war effort of our common carriers by planning the annual holiday leaves of your employees on the following basis:

First: Organize holiday schedules so that they spread out proportionately over the entire spring, summer and fall seasons.

Second: Request employees to leave and return on Tuesdays, Wednesdays or Thursdays instead of on week-ends. This can be accomplished by setting the period for leaving and returning between Tuesday mornings and Thursday evenings.

The adoption of this program will assist the common carriers in ensuring that motive power and equipment are effectively utilized to more war supplies on their way to the battlefronts and to carry personnel of the armed services on duty or on leave.

Small But Efficient

Britain's Midget Submarine Not Yet But Deadly Striking Weapon

Britain's "X craft" is not a toy. It is a complete submarine in miniature.

Going through demonstration runs in the secluded reaches of a salt-water loch this ship may look and sound almost like the clock-work motor boat you sailed as a boy in a pond or bathtub, or a fugitive from the navy of a Lilliput.

But when you view the performance and remember that these craft travelled more than 1,000 miles across the sea into the Alten Fjord of northern Norway to batter the German battleship Tirpitz last September, you realize that you are seeing a deadly striking weapon.

Much is still secret about the "X craft". When the admiralty opened this base for an afternoon to war correspondents and photographers examination of this ship below decks was not permitted. The torpedo armament was not made public. The range is secret.

But enough was seen of its operation on the surface, diving and submerged, to make obvious the craft's efficiency.

The "X-craft" has a low superstructure instead of a conning tower in order to cut down the silhouette. It is manned by four men, usually commissioned officers and one rating.

This midget is about 50 feet long, somewhat shorter than the two-man subs used by Japan.

Beneath London

Staggering Discoveries Found Of Early English Civilization

Houses built 12 centuries ago, with central heating bathrooms, sun-bathing porticos and other "modern features" lie beneath the bombed basements of the City of London.

They were the homes of rich British merchants who traded with the Gauls, Italians and Spaniards after the fall of the Roman Empire and founded the first great native civilization in England.

Archaeologists have formed a council to help uncover, photograph, measure and record these houses and other remains of a "lost city" before they are swept away forever by the excavation for deep modern foundations.

"Most staggering discoveries lie there for the finding, and our children will not forgive us if we rob them of these treasures," said Miss K. M. Kenyon, of the Institute of City—London News-Chronicle.

NEWSPRINT PRODUCTION

Newsprint paper production in Canada, the United States and Newfoundland dropped to 310,714 tons in April from 332,161 tons in March but was approximately equal to output in April of 1943, the United States newsprint service bureau reported.

PENICILLIN FOR CIVILIANS

"Some prospect of penicillin being available for general civilian use within the next five or six months," is reported editorially by The Canadian Medical Association Journal in its current issue.

The Journal reports that two sources of supply have been established in Canada, one being the Connaught Laboratories in Toronto, the other a Government-owned laboratory at Montreal, operated by a well-known firm of pharmaceutical manufacturers. The Journal states that "apparently, progress in the production has been more rapid than was anticipated."

"Research on penicillin is being continued in the Banting Institute under auspices of the National Research Council. Part of the limited quantity of penicillin produced weekly is sent to the Joint Services Penicillin Committee and part to Montreal and Toronto for clinical investigation of its effects."

"After meeting these demands the remaining penicillin is distributed for civilian use in the treatment of proved cases of staphylococcal septicemia and staphylococcal and pneumococcal meningitis," the Journal reports.

The U.S. Public Health Service reports that "additional penicillin for treatment of sulfa-resistant gonorrhea, enough to supply all state and federally operated rapid-treatment centres, has been allocated to the Service's V.D. Division. Realizations have been made to 24 state health departments supplying 35 rapid-treatment centres during April."

PAUL ENCOURAGES THE CORINTHIANS

Golden Text: Ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that, though he became poor, that ye through his poverty might become rich. II Corinthians 8:9.

Lesson: II Corinthians 4:1-5:21.

Devotional Reading: John 15:7-17.

Explanations and Comments

The Theme and Motive of Paul's Preaching, 2 Cor. 4:5: Paul's preaching was not concerning himself, but concerning Christ Jesus as Lord, and it was his love for Jesus that led him to labor among them.

He is Sustained by a Glorious Hope, 2 Corinthians 4:16-18. Even though his body is decaying, his real self is being renewed daily; therefore he faints not.

We look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen; for the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal. "I love to see a man live by the unknown, the invisible, the unseen. O glory in that power of holding myself superior to the here and the now, and of looking beyond to the unseen and the eternal!" (Maltbie D. Babcock).

Paul's Expectation of a Glorified Body Hereafter, 2 Corinthians 5:1-5:10. "This earthly body of mine," Paul writes, "will undergo dissolution, but I know God will give me a death an eternal heavenly body. The earthly body is but a perishable tabernacle or tent; the heavenly body will be of divine origin and everlasting."

To Be With Christ is Best, 2 Corinthians 5:6-8. Now he that wrought us for this very purpose—the change from mortality to eternal life—is God, who gave us his Spirit as a pledge. "We are therefore always of good courage, because we know that while we live in this earthly body we are away from the Lord (for now we live by faith, not by sight—explanatory of the sense in which we are absent from the Lord); more full of courage, I repeat, and are ready to put off this earthly body that we may be at home with the Lord." "For me to live is Christ, and to die is gain," Paul wrote the Philippians; "but I am in a strait between the two, having the desire to depart and be with Christ, for it is very far better."

Works Long Hours

Doctors Keep Close Watch On Prime Minister Churchill's Health

Prime Minister Churchill's doctors are keeping a careful eye to see that his health does not suffer because of the extra strain imposed on him by the invasion preparations, but Mr. Churchill refuses to spare himself and he's working 18 hours a day. The doctors don't like this; but there isn't much they can do about it. The doctors think Mr. Churchill is working too hard for a man of 70 who has had to fight off pneumonia twice within ten months.

Honorary Degrees Are Conferred At Its Annual Convocation

Five honorary degrees of Doctor of Laws were conferred by the University of Manitoba at its annual convocation at Winnipeg.

Recipients of degrees were Mr. Justice Amk. Dysart, installed as chancellor of the University, succeeding the late Dr. J. W. Daffoe, editor-in-chief of the Winnipeg Free Press, Arthur MacNamara of Ottawa, director of National Selective Service; A. W. Kieforth, United States Consul General in Winnipeg; H. E. Sellers, Manitoba chairman of the National War Finance Committee and Dr. E. J. Brandon, professor emeritus, faculty of medicine, University of Manitoba.

In his address to the graduates Mr. Justice Dysart urged them to "go forth and prove that it is still true there exists in life faith, hope and charity."

Make Good Ones

Women Train Announcers At Waterloo Station Can Be Understood

Although women in Canada have taken over a number of railroad jobs formerly believed to be suitable for men only, they have not invaded this field in the same numbers as their sisters in Britain. Over there, 106,000 women are serving in practically all kinds of railway activity.

Peace, doubtless, will displace many of them, but there is at least one position in which sheer merit might entrench them. Word comes from Britain that the woman train-announcer at Waterloo Station is "understandable," something that could not be said for her male predecessor. Great things have grown from smaller beginnings and perhaps from this the gift of improved articulation will one day come to our own railway stations.—Windward Star.

Travel

East is east and west is west, and young women from both ends of Canada will meet for basic training at Kitchener, Ont. On May 15 the western basic training centre at Vermilion, Alta., closed and all recruits are now sent to Kitchener for their four-week basic training course. On return to her own end of the country, the average young woman in khaki will have gained a clearer picture of the country. Canada will no longer be a vast unknown expanse. It will be a well-known itinerary dotted with little place names, each meaning a good friend.

Leisure Time

Excitement ran high among members of the CWAC in Montreal recently when a series of off-duty classes in rifle shooting commenced at the Duke of York Hussars Armoury. Thirty Corps members including officers and ranks registered for the initial class. The enthusiasm that this new sports venture has met with among Army girls is unprecedented. Although firearm drill is definitely not in the syllabus for CWAC training, the girls have expressed the desire to learn a little more, if only as a recreational project, about the weapons used by soldiers they are replacing on active duty.

Personality

Lance Corporal Ann MacDonald of Montreal is a truly versatile CWAC. She manages, besides her Army position in the Directorate of Public Relations, Ottawa, to teach Sunday School, work with the CWAC paper, take a correspondence course in English, study psychology and be an active adherent of both Corps, Church and social activities. Born in London, Eng., Ann is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. MacDonald now of Montreal. She is a grandniece of the late Sir Charles Roberts, Canadian Dean of Letters.

Total-War Family

It's strangely quiet around home for the Thomas Smiths of Edmonton, Alta., these days, because all the "kids" are on active service. Three of the fighting Smiths wear the khaki of the CWAC and the fourth, Flying Officer Stewart Smith, recently won the D.F.C. for bravery with the R.C.A.F. First of the girls to answer the call to the colours was L. Cpl. Margery Smith, in March 1943. Margery was employed in the recruiting office in her home town. She must be good, for she was followed in June by Pte. Helen Smith who is currently employed at National Defence Headquarters in Ottawa, and Rowena waited only for her eighteenth birthday this April to take a stand beside her sisters in the CWAC. She is now undergoing her basic training.

Souvenirs

Pieces of shrapnel collected in London will become souvenir ash trays now that Lieut. Isabel Chevier of Winnipeg, Man., has returned to Canada. One of the original members of the Corps, Isabel enlisted in 1941 and was sent overseas with the first contingent of CWACs. She served overseas as an Ordnance officer and then as a platoon commander of No. 43 Company for 16 months. Among other prize souvenirs picked up during her overseas sojourn is a parachute attached to a bomb, which she found in Hyde Park.

This Week's Pattern

DO NOT REALLY FLY

Flying fish do not fly, but merely glide through the air. After getting up speed in the water, the fish takes to the air, and wind currents and momentum do the rest. Considerable speed is attained and a distance of 500 feet is often covered by these fish.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

Plain Stubborn

By JAYE ELL

McClure Newspaper Syndicate

No, you're wrong! That wisecrack of yours about me buying so much from you ain't for the Hibernian boxing matches tonight. I'm not going. But to keep you from popping with curiosity I'll give you the lowdown. Mike Casey and me's been very close since we was kids at the orphanage. We always done everything together; even joined the police force at the same time. Mike's like a bull-dog. Stubborn. Hangs on to an idea, come fire or high water. But even he could be wrong. We never agreed much. But I got to admit that once Mike did know a good thing when he saw it—especially when it was Mary Grady who runs the Doughnut Palace.

When we was off duty you'd always find me and Mike at the Palace dunking sugared doughnuts in hot coffee, and making believe we are listening to the radio, but we was really looking at Mary. She always treated us both alike, giving a date to me and then to Mike, until after the story was in the papers.

Many a time after leaving the Palace Mike'd say to me, "Kerrigan, when Mary and I get married we'll have you out to dinner sometime."

"Yeah?" I'd always say. "You mean when Mary marries me you'll be lucky to stick your big feet under our table sometime?"

"Phooey!" he'd say. "You haven't a chance."

I'd get exasperated. "Look, Mike," I'd say, "I don't see Mary running out to greet you when we come in the Palace."

And it always ended with Mike giving me the grin.

I guess you read about it in the papers. How me and Mike was in the prowl car when we bumped into the stick-up guys who grabbed the dough from the theatre and how we shot it out with them and how they put a couple of slugs in Mike before they was taken.

At the hospital the doc said Mike didn't have much of a chance, although they were going to give Mike a blood transfusion and use me to do it.

The doc explained it: "Mike's lost too much blood. He might manage to pull through if he could be made to understand he has something to live for."

I went down the hospital hall not feeling too good and trying to think of something. I had about given up all hope when I came face to face with Mary.

"Mister Kerrigan," gasped Mary, "the doc just told me." Her blue eyes were misty like the frost on a refrigerator glass.

"Hello," I said.

"Mike's got to live," she said. "He can't die now. He's the best friend I . . . you . . . we have."

When I saw that look on her face I thought, so that's it. Then I got the idea.

"He'll live, Mary," I said. "I just thought of something."

And you know what she done?

She up and kissed me and said, "Bless you, Kerry."

Afterwards I was standing with the doc by Mike's bed. Mike was lying there with his eyes closed. Pale, quiet.

"If he could only understand," said the doc, "that . . ."

"Doc!" I hollered. "When Mary and me gets married we are going to have Mike out for dinner sometime."

The doc caught on and said loud, "What's Mike got to say about that?"

Mike's eyes opened slow and he whistled, "Phooey, Kerry, you haven't a chance."

I forgot where I was. I got exasperated. "Look, Mike," I said, "Just a while ago Mary kissed me. ME understand?"

"Yeah?" said Mike, the color returning to his face. "She was just kissing you good-bye." And Mike gave me the grin.

"Why, you . . ." I started to say, but the doc nudged me and I could see he was smiling. So we left.

And that's why I'm buying so much this time. I got to have enough steak at the house this evening, don't I? Mike's coming to dinner.

Measles Serum

Convalescent Serum Used In Iceland With Great Benefit

Convalescent measles serum may be useful not only as a complete protection against the disease but also as a means of treatment, according to the Department of Pathology and Bacteriology, University of Iceland, Reykjavik. The report deals with the use of the serum during an epidemic of measles in Iceland in 1943. Convalescent serum is obtained from persons who have recovered from the disease.

It was found in Iceland that convalescent serum is useful in two ways against measles: on the one hand, it may be applied to give complete protection against the disease; and on the other hand it may be used to alter the course of the disease to produce milder symptoms, lower fever, shorter illness, and fewer complications.

Progress Being Made

Caterpillar Tracks For Civil Airline Landings British Engineering Problem

Many of Britain's post-war civil airlines will land on "caterpillar tracks" like those of big tanks instead of the orthodox undercarriage with rubber-tired wheels.

The main advantage of the caterpillar landing gear is that aircraft with heavier loads can be operated from land bases because of the increased contact with the ground. The projected caterpillar undercarriage is a formidable engineering problem but definite progress is being made.

ON RUSSIA'S LIST

There's Something In This Name

Some names are lyrical; some strong, some have a delicate sound. But when it comes to cookies, it's more than the name that counts. The taste does the trick.

Sometimes, of course, you find a name and a taste that go perfectly together. One of these is "Princess Pats." You'll realize how appropriate it is when you sample these royal little cookies.

PRINCESS PATS

2 eggs 1/4 teaspoon baking powder
1 cup sifted brown sugar 1/4 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon melted butter 1/2 cup All-Brans
1/2 cup flour 1/2 cup chopped nut meats
Beat eggs until light. Beat in sugar and butter. Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Crush All-Brans into fine crumbs, mix with flour. Gradually stir dry ingredients into egg mixture. Add nut meats. Turn into greased, shallow pan and bake in moderately hot oven (425 degrees F.) about 8 minutes. Cut into bars.
Yield: 32 bars, 1/2 x 2 1/2 inches; 1 pan 7 1/2 x 11 1/2 inches.

CEREALS HAVE A PLACE

Busy housewives appreciate Kellogg's ready-to-eat cereals more and more every day. Kellogg's are a satisfying dish anytime—for breakfast, lunch, odd-hour snacks. Ready in 30 seconds.

It's whole wheat-flaked, toasted ready-to-eat!

Save Time... Save Work... Save Fuel!

MAKE IT INTO A DRESS

When a man's shirt is so worn at the neck and cuffs that it can't be worn, there is still plenty of material to make a cotton dress or an apron. Where possible, use the buttons or button holes down the front—it saves an hour's work. Two worn shirts of contrasting color can often be combined to make a smart cotton frock for your eight-year-old daughter.

Extra Rations

Extra Farm Help May Get Extra Rations This Year

Arrangements have been made by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board to provide this year extra rations of food for extra farm help engaged seasonally in all parts of Canada, on the basis of a limit of five meals per person per day.

Any farm household in Canada, engaging seasonal help for such work as threshing, soil filling, woodcutting, and other work, will be able to make application for extra rations for these crews up to a limit of five meals for each member of the crews, if five meals are being served each day. This rule was in effect in 1943 but only in a comparatively small number of cases was it utilized to the limit. Application forms for the extra rations will bear a statement, this year to the effect that rations may be applied for up to five meals a day per person, if required.

Officials of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board believe that this extra allowance will enable farm homes to meet their needs for most rationed foods for the extra gangs. No further concessions can, however, be made for sugar.

NO DOUBT ABOUT IT

The Brockville Recorder and Times says: Anne O'Hare McCormick writes in the New York Times that "the frontier between Canada and the United States is as nearly invisible as any boundary yet established between nations." Maybe so but anyone trying to cross it in these days of currency and other restrictions soon realizes that it is there all right.

Bananas, grapefruit, grapes, lemons, oranges, tangerines and tomatoes are berries to a botanist.

Expects To Gain Power

Himmler Making Plans To Rule Germany After The War

Himmler's Schutzstaffel—now the core of Nazism—has elaborately detailed plans to go Underground in the event of German defeat, according to authoritative information at Naples.

The Schutzstaffel now has about 20 divisions which are organized not only on a military basis, but in a pyramidal cell system, so that in case the Army disintegrates, the SS can remain organized and functioning as a secret body, according to this information.

The cells consist of five members with a leader. Three such cells compose a squad with a leader, three squads forming a group. Himmler and other SS leaders, it is said, are convinced Germany will be defeated, but are hopeful the SS can get control and return Germany to "Neo-Nazism," in the chaotic period which they expect to follow the war.

The plan involves abandonment of Hitler and most other well-known Nazi leaders, placing the responsibility for defeat on them.

The SS expects support from the Army and Junker class when it attempts to regain power.

WHEAT CROP STATISTICS

Canada's smallest wheat crop in the past 29 years was 180,000,000 bushels harvested in the bad drought year of 1937. Canada's largest wheat crop (566,726,000 bushels) was produced in 1928. At first the 1942 crop was thought to be the largest, but it now takes second place on a final estimate of 536,684,000 bushels.
